THE VALUE OF A SINGLE SEED

Ten Hubbard Squashes, 145 lbs. from One Seed

The limit of production will always be an undetermined quantity. 10 Hubbard Squashes weighing 145 lbs. from one seed only suggests possibilities in the future, not the maximum of production. These squashes were grown by Dr. G. M. Twitchell on his little place in Monmouth, Me., and this is the story. "I use barn manure broadcast, very little in the hill, at the axil of each leaf the soil was loosened and the vine pressed down but not buried, when twelve feet long the tips of the vine was pinched off and buried. Two branches were allowed to grow and were treated in the same manner. No artificial food was given. I am convinced that the use of my mixture for dusting, Bug Death Aphs not only protects from insect pests and fungus disease but is a stimulant for growth and vigor of stock and leaf.

Bobolink Pole Beans—Best on Earth

Gathering Bobolink Beans for Home Canning

BOBOLINK POLE BEAN.

If you want the very best, most tender and delicious "String Beans," raise the Bobolink. The best pole bean for northern planting, extremely early and very prolific, the vines bearing long, flat, meaty pods, entirely free from strings or fiber, a rich, light green color, very attractive, most excellent quality, the very best of all the pole beans. Plant enough to can—they are delicious. This splendid variety is soon bound to be the most popular Pole Bean grown. In many respects they surpass anything we know of. The pods retain their stringless and tender qualities until they are almost ripe. They are hardy, easily grown and enormously productive.

Large packet, post paid, 15c; $\frac{1}{2}$ pt. 25c; pt. 45c; qt. 80c.

The two following testimonials are from two noted educators. Note what they say about the Bobolink Pole Bean:

FROM PROF. FRANK E. SEAVEY

Tufts College, Mass., Sept. 18, 1918.

I want to take this opportunity to add my praise to that of your other customers for the quality of the seeds you furnished this year and last. They showed an efficiency well over ninety per cent., in very favorable contrast with those I bought of other dealers. Your Bobolink Beans, unknown in this section, I am attempting to introduce here, and since I know of no other dealer who handles them, you should receive orders from here next spring.

Monmouth, Me.,

Feb. 1st, 1921.

Pine Tree State Seed Co.,
W. R. Kimball, Mgr.

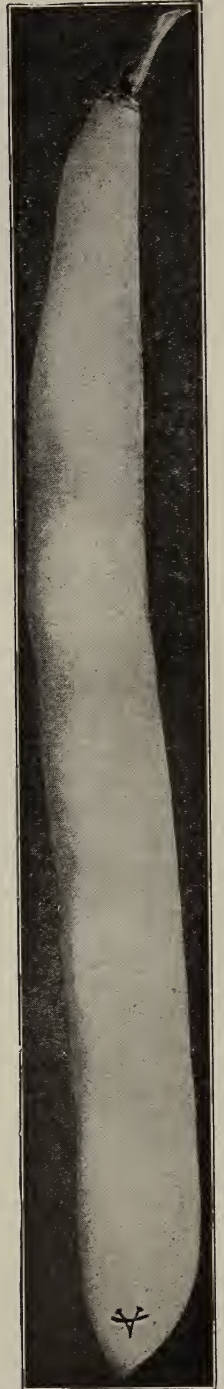

My dear Mr. Kimball:—The years but confirm my judgment regarding the superiority of your Bobolink Pole Beans. Selecting my seed from the pods at the top of the pole, I find that the season for maturity has been shortened so that the past year they were ready for the table three days after the first picking of my earliest bush Wax. Growth is rapid and abundant, yield heavy and quality beyond anything I ever raised. I want the soil well supplied with barn manure and then, to insure complete protection, I dust the vines with Bug Death Apis—my own mixture, and insure ideal conditions of health and growth. It is a pleasure to express my obligations to you for the uniform high quality of seed received.

Twenty years' reliance on your goods justifies a strong word of commendation—my best wishes are with you for 1921.

More and more must we rely on fresh garden products for health and protection against multiplied forms of disease. Under present disturbed conditions the home garden may well be made the supply centre for the home table. Wishing you the largest possible measure of success, Sincerely,
G. M. TWITCHELL.

Note.—The 12-page booklet, "Home Garden Nuggets," by Dr. Twitchell, is full of condensed and helpful suggestions and instructions covering all garden and field products. Years of experience testing new varieties enables him to speak with authority. In every case he names those proving best with him, time for planting, care demanded and days necessary for maturity. A copy will be sent free to any address on receipt of two cent stamp to cover postage. This is his contribution to the home garden propaganda. Apply directly to the author, Monmouth, Maine. We often refer to this helpful little booklet. Better send today for a copy, and remember to enclose stamp.

Metcalf's "Thousand Dollar" Musk Melon

A GRAND MELON FOR NEW ENGLAND

Metcalf's "Thousand Dollar" Musk Melon

This melon has been grown by Mr. Metcalf of Cumberland County for over twenty years, of whom we secured a small supply of seed.

The following is his description:

"More than 20 years ago, a horticultural friend told me he had been talking with a man interested in gardening who told him of a superior variety of Musk Melon he was growing. Soon after he gave him a few of the seeds; these he divided with me. We both planted them the next season with good success. After they had ripened I called at the home of my friend one evening. When he brought in a nice looking melon and opened it, as he did so, its fine appearance and delightful odor caused him to exclaim: 'Ah! That's worth a thousand dollars.' Since then it has been known as the Thousand Dollar Melon. I have continued to plant this variety every year since, saving seeds from the best and first to ripen each year and know of no other variety any better or will ripen as early."

The Melons average two to six pounds.

Supply limited, packets only.

Price per packet, 15c.

POLE BEAN, KENTUCKY WONDER WAX.—

similar to Kentucky Wonder, but the quality is far superior. The vines are densely laden with a solid mass of long, thick and meaty, stringless, yellow pods. Very early and continue bearing until killed by frost. Pkt. 10c; pt. 35c; qt. 65c.

THE NEW DAVIS PERFECT CUCUMBER.—

This new variety beats all others in points of beauty, quality and productiveness, a beautiful dark green color, handsome shape and enormously productive. This variety enables one who has no glass to produce the same high priced cucumbers as those grown in a greenhouse. Pkt. 10c; oz. 20c; $\frac{1}{4}$ lb. 60c; lb. \$2.00.

CRIMSON GLOBE BEET.—This beet is remarkable for its smooth skin and fine shape, and it does not grow large and coarse. The flesh is very dark and quality fine, sweet and tender. Pkt. 10c; oz. 20c; $\frac{1}{4}$ lb. 45c; lb. \$1.50.

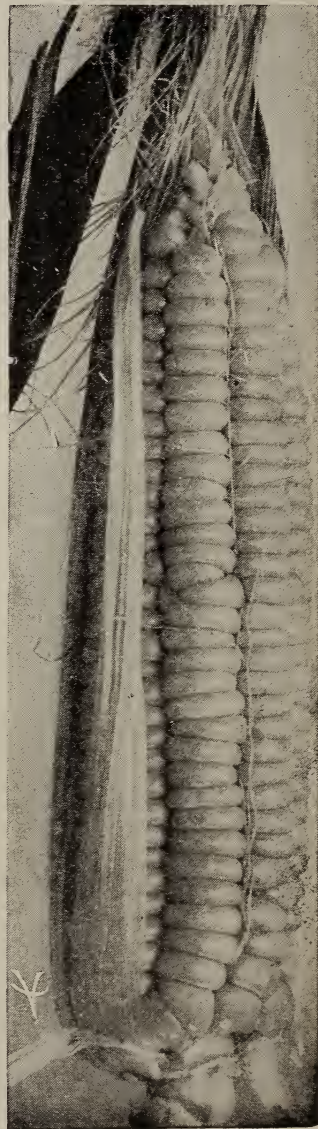

LEMON CUCUMBER.—The Garden Lemon.—

The Lemon Cucumber resembles a lemon in shape, color and size, but grows on a vine like a cucumber. It has a thin skin, is crisp, tender, sweet and fine flavored. We are safe in predicting the Lemon Cucumber will become a great favorite for slicing, or pickles. The best time for picking is just as it turns yellow. Pkt. 10c; oz. 25c; $\frac{1}{4}$ lb. 65c.

ALL SMOOTH CUCUMBER.—A variety of the highest merit. The fruits are large, extra smooth and very regular in form, a rich, dark green color, retaining its color until fully ripe; novelty. Pkt. 10c; oz. 20c; $\frac{1}{4}$ lb. 75c.

BURPEE'S FORDHOOK FAMOUS CUCUMBER.

—The finest flavor of all. Vines producing an enormous crop. Perfectly smooth and very dark green, the handsomest fruits measure twelve to fifteen inches long and wonderfully prolific. Per Pkt. 10c; oz. 20c; $\frac{1}{4}$ lb. 65c.

Golden Bantam Corn

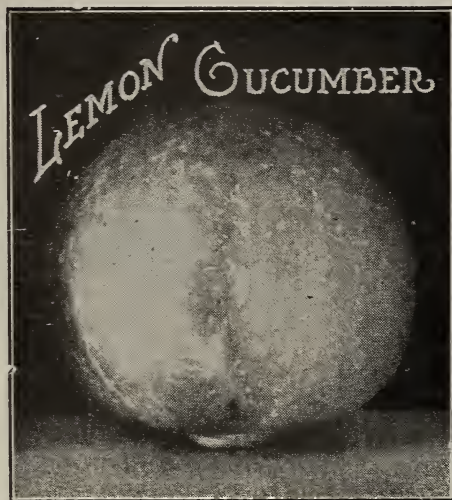

Water Melon Yankee

WATER MELON YANKEE.—Best for New England. This new melon is a fine variety for the family and market, very early and prolific. The bright red flesh is cool, crisp and sweet. Will mature anywhere in Yankee land. Pkt. 10c; oz. 20c; $\frac{1}{4}$ lb. 45c; lb. \$1.50.

PE-TSAI OR CHINESE CABBAGE.—A new cabbage from China. The plant grows upright and resembles Cos Lettuce. The mid rib of the leaf is very thick and is used either raw or cooked, grows quickly. Pkt. 10c; $\frac{1}{2}$ oz. 30c; oz. 60c.

EXCELSIOR ENSILAGE CORN.—This variety of corn is the result of hybridizing three of the best Flint and Dent varieties of ensilage corn, resulting in seed that will mature quicker in Eastern State climate than any other variety that has been brought to our notice. The foliage extends nearly to the ground; the stalks are sturdy and tall, growing to a height of 12 to 15 feet, and has been known to yield as high as twenty-nine (29) tons of silage to the acre. While this may be an exceptional case, fully twenty (20) to twenty-five (25) tons under ordinary cultivation can be expected from this wonderful corn, as well as yielding from one hundred and fifty (150) to one hundred and seventy-five (175) bushels of ears. Because of its being an eighty (80) to ninety (90) day corn, it comes to the glazed state, and in some sections of the Eastern States seed stock has been possible, instead of the milk state, when ready to harvest; thus giving greater protein production, which is the great advantage in an ensilage corn. Being a hybrid, seed does not run uniform as to color and one should not be surprised to find in some shipments red kernels and nearly white kernels, as well as the yellow kernels, which predominate. Large pkt. 15c postpaid; qt. 35c; 4 qts. $1.25; peck $2.00.

FOUR CHOICE VARIETIES OF GOLDEN SWEET CORN.—One large packet of each postpaid for 30c.

GOLDEN NUGGET.—Sweetest on earth. The ears of this new golden sweet corn are larger and more prolific than Golden Bantam, tender and unusually sweet. Ready for market only a few days behind the earliest. Pkt. 10c; $\frac{1}{2}$ pt. 20c; pt. 30c; qt. 50c.

GOLDEN ROD.—Very productive, having two or three good ears on a stock, golden yellow kernels; quality unequalled. Good variety to follow Golden Bantam. Pkt. 10c; $\frac{1}{2}$ pt. 15c; pt. 30c; qt. 50c.

BANTAM EVERGREEN.—Golden Bantam Crossed with Stowell's Evergreen.—Ears from seven to nine inches long, with twelve to fourteen rows. The flavor is rich, nutlike and delicious. Pkt. 10c; $\frac{1}{2}$ pt. 20c; pt. 30c; qt. 50c.

BURPEE'S GOLDEN BANTAM.—One of the best extreme early varieties. Dwarf and sturdy in habit, growing about four feet high and bearing two or three good ears to each stalk. The ears five or six inches in length, having eight rows of broad yellow grains of a delicious flavor. Pkt. 10c; $\frac{1}{2}$ pt. 15c; pt. 25c; qt. 50c.

EARLIEST SWEET CORN.—Early Mayflower Corn. — The earliest variety yet produced, seven to ten days earlier than Cory. Very productive and for so early a variety, is of excellent quality. Pkt. 10c; $\frac{1}{2}$ pt. 15c; pt. 30c; qt. 50c.

If you plant Field Corn be sure and Try MAMMOTH GOLDEN NUGGET YELLOW FLINT. See description. A large sample post paid 15c.

Copenhagen Market Cabbage

LETTUCE, MAY KING.—A new early head lettuce, its growth is extremely rapid and its fine large heads are ready in advance of any other heading variety. Crisp and very brittle. Pkt. 10c; oz. 25c; $\frac{1}{4}$ lb. 75c.

KELWAY'S NEW YELLOW MANGOLD.—“Best of all.” A wonderful improvement on all existing stocks of Yellow Mangolds, being the heaviest cropper and easiest pulled, besides being of the very finest possible quality. Shape between intermediate and tankard; beautiful pale yellow skin with fine top. The largest and best of all yellow mangolds. Pkt. 5c; oz. 15c; $\frac{1}{4}$ lb. 50c; lb. \$1.75.

CABBAGE, GLORY OF ENKHUIZEN.—Earlier than the All Seasons; of medium size, globe shaped and handsome dark green color; just right for market. Leaves fine ribbed; outer leaves set close to permit close planting. Where this variety has been tried in market growing districts the growers have been very enthusiastic. Pkt. 10c; oz. 45c; $\frac{1}{4}$ lb. \$1.10.

RUTA BAGA KELWAY'S MAMMOTH.—An enormous cropper, grows freely in all kinds of soil. It possesses very dense, sound flesh, globe shaped, short neck, dwarf foliage and a clean, single tap root. The highest quality Swede in cultivation. Pkt. 10c; oz. 20c; $\frac{1}{4}$ lb. 60c; lb. \$2.00.

Garden Peas

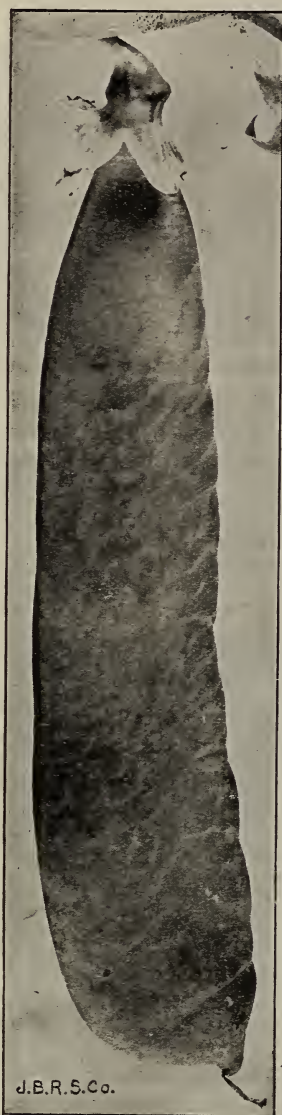

FAMOUS NEW PEA—PIONEER.—In this wonderful new pea we believe we have something that has long been sought after by the market gardener who wishes to second crop his ground. The plant is very robust in habit, makes a very heavy crop of large dark green pods. In our trial grounds last summer it grew a vine about 16 inches high and they were so heavily podded on dwarf vines that it resembled almost a windrow of picked peas. They are more than a week earlier than Gradus and fully as handsome in appearance. Pkt. 10c; $\frac{1}{2}$ pt. 20c; pt. 40c; qt. 75c; pk. \$4.75.
